In Brazil, people helped 373 penguins. The birds lost their way and swam to the wrong place. They were looking for food. Animal rescuers helped carry the penguins onto a plane. The plane took the birds to the right place.

These penguins are warm-weather birds. They usually swim to warm places in the north, from September to March. The birds lost their way because of the change in the water temperature and moved too far north. After their first plane flight, the birds had to rest for 24 hours. Before they were set free, body conditions were checked. They had to be healthy enough to catch food before they could be set free. Young penguins were set free with adult penguins. Scientists hope the older penguins will lead the younger ones to food area.

If you enjoy reading, don't miss Shakespeare and Company when you visit the city of Paris. It is a famous English-language bookstore on the left bank of the river Seine. The first Shakespeare and Company in history was opened in 1919 by an American, Sylvia Beach. Ms. Beach did more than sell books. Her bookstore was also a library, and she even prepared beds for writers visiting there. Ms. Beach was not only kind to people but also good at choosing books, so her bookstore was often visited by writers like Ernest Hemingway and James Joyce. But in 1941, after the Germans took power in Paris, Ms. Beach was told to close her bookstore.

In 1951, another American, George Whitman, opened in Paris another English-language bookstore, Librairie Mistral. Since then, just as Ms. Beach did, Mr. Whitman has also made his bookstore a library for people to borrow books, and a free hotel for writers to stay in. To remember Ms. Beach, Mr. Whitman changed the name of his bookstore to Shakespeare and Company in 1964, two years after Ms. Beach died.

Next time when you are in Paris, don't forget to visit this friendly bookstore, and see if you can spend a night there!
