A friend of mine and I were talking about fast fashion at lunch the other day. I asked her about her feelings on the subject because she was into fashion and knew a lot about it. She told me some interesting things.

At first, she liked fast fashion because it gave her many different kinds of clothes to enjoy. They also weren't very expensive. When a new style caught her eye, she would buy it. Then, she would wear it to work and show it to everybody. It made her feel good.

That feeling didn't last, however. She saw a news report about fast fashion and found out some bad things about the business. One big problem was its waste of water. Another big problem was its waste of materials. However, the biggest problem was it led to a lot of pollution. All that made her both sad and angry, so she decided to make a change.
